

Creating Period Equality in the workplace

Be a progressive employer by providing free period products with a phs vending machine.

Don't let periods hold people back. They're a necessity, not a luxury!

At phs, we believe everyone should have access to the period products they need. Schools, colleges, universities, business and the public sector have a vital role to play in ending Period Poverty in the UK. phs Group are here to support with an extensive range of period products, guidance and learning materials to ensure no-one misses out because of their period.
