

Creating period equality for all.

Did you know; 1 in 9 girls have missed school because they could not afford to buy sanitary products in the UK?*

This school now provides a choice of free sanitary products, dispensed from a phs vending machine. Simply take what you need, when you need it.

Here's where you can find a range of free sanitary products:

#phsperiodequality
phs.co.uk/periodequality

At phs, we believe everyone should have access to the period products they need. Schools, colleges, universities, business and the public sector have a vital role to play in ending Period Poverty in the UK. phs Group are here to support with an extensive range of period products, guidance and learning materials to ensure no-one misses out because of their period.

*Research carried out by phs Group - Period Equality Whitepaper, June 2021

